Long Island Synagogue joins forces with Military for Jewish High Holidays

ChavuratEmet (www.ChavuratEmet.org), in support of the government's "Joining Forces" campaign, will start the Jewish New Year which begins this year on September 28 by reaching out to families of Jewish personnel serving in the American Armed Forces. The organization is extending an invitation to Jewish military personnel and their families to become part of the local Jewish community and to attend ChavuratEmet's High Holiday Services as guests without any cost. Services will be held at the Sheraton Long Island (also known as the Smithtown Sheraton) located on Motor Parkway in Hauppauge. Rosh Hashanah services will be held September 28-30 and Yom Kippur services will be held October 7 and 8. For additional information, call 631-724-7640.

"Every day, America's military families make remarkable sacrifices for our freedom and safety. That's why it's so important for us to take the time to give something back," said Arthur Podwall, Chairperson of ChavuratEmet

ChavuratEmet is a unique Long Island Jewish organization committed to family, friends and community. They join together for lively Shabbat services and celebrate Jewish holidays in their own special style.

Joining Forces (<http://www.whitehouse.gov/joiningforces>) is a national initiative that mobilizes all sectors of society to give our service members and their families the opportunities and support they have earned.
